CUSTOM BUILT HOMES

The more you learn about what causes real value in new residential construction, the more you understand how special a Deville home is. Every detail, every design, every decision adds up to a finished product that embodies quality. And that's not just industry jargon, but a cornerstone that the business builds on. There's quality...then there's Deville quality.

"The same quality I put in my million dollar homes is what I'm putting in the homes at Rock Springs," says Chris Osborne of Deville Homes. "It's just at a different price point. And, in terms of location, proximity to shopping, it's just a great neighborhood."

Having built in Lake Forest, Locust Creek, Hillcrest and Woodmont, Osborne, a HOMEARAMA Grand Award Winner with 25 years of experience in new home construction, knows a thing or two about selecting great neighborhoods. He also knows a thing or two about identifying trends. "Master bedrooms on the first floor, whether it's a ranch or a story-and-a-half, are a big thing," explains Osborne. "And I like open floor plans...the California/Florida look."

For Deville Homes, it's also about quality of people. "My specialists...my bricklayers, my trim work people...have worked pretty much just for me for years and years. There are no surprises," says Osborne. So, as you learn about all the components that make purchasing or building a new home a smart decision, you'll learn about the incredible situation that awaits you in Rock Springs with a Deville Home.
